

TOPICS

The Intersection of People and Performance

Research shows that cultivating authentic relationships in the workplace drives higher performance, trust and professional growth. In this eye-opening keynote, John reveals how to lead organizations at this powerful intersection where people connect and performance happens. Learn how to go beyond transactional relationships to form meaningful connections that spark engagement, achievement and business results.

Build Relationships That Activate Professional Growth

It's often said that it's not what you know, it's who you know. Meaningful professional relationships can lead to million-dollar ventures down the road— but you have to put in the time, effort and honest intention to build these vital connections. John draws on his personal experience as a successful founder, CEO, advisor and investor. He will share insight on building genuine relationships to grow as a professional or entrepreneur, boost your career and launch successful ventures.

One Surprising Practice for Outstanding Leadership Success

Many successful CEOs and entrepreneurs share one simple daily habit that enables them to reflect, clarify their thoughts and generate new ideas. John reveals how this habit has helped him run a successful launch million-dollar businesses all while staying connected and grounded at home. He will share with you the personal and professional pitfalls that almost ended his life and tell you how to regain focus, clarity and balance, at work and at home, even in the toughest of times.

ABOUT JOHN

John is a successful entrepreneur, advisor, investor and speaker based in Austin, Texas. He's dedicated to returning human connection to professional interactions, helping leaders and organizations build authentic relationships that drive exceptional business outcomes — and personal fulfillment.